

Join us for the first Wellington Peacenic

Te Ngākau Civic Square, Wellington
Sunday 23 February, 11.45am–3.00pm

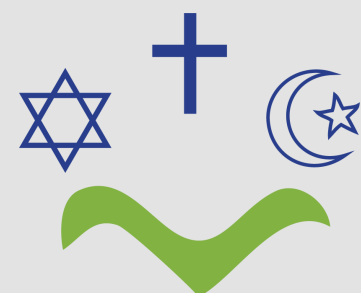

Peacenic began in Auckland in 2016. It grew out of a desire to replace the polarising bad-news stories that dominate the media with real experiences of hospitality and friendship in our own backyard. The simplest gift of sharing time and food together is rewarding in itself but goes beyond that to offer a glimpse of the world as it could be. In our increasingly multi-religious, multi-ethnic community, we want to help build bridges across the divisions that have historically separated Muslims, Jews and Christians.

Rick The Clown will perform at midday.

Goju-Ryu Karate Do Wellington will give a demonstration of their martial art.

Bring a picnic blanket to sit on and food to share but be sensitive about other faiths' dietary requirements. Ask if you are not sure.

Parking charges usually apply in the city so consider car pooling or using public transport.
