Sunday 20 June 2021

1.30pm – 5.30pm

Mezzanine Floor, Room RHMZ03

Speakers include Geoff Troughton, Waseema Ahmed, Sarah Livschitz, Paul Blaschke, Amy Ross, Jonathan Boston, Estelle Henrys and Minister James Shaw.

But the most important participant is YOU, because after a few short but informative speeches establishing a) our religions' historical approaches to the environment and b) contemporary interpretations of these approaches, we will all be breaking up into groups to discuss the themes.

The aim is to leave the workshop having committed to practical actions we can take personally and collectively to make a real difference in our community.

Admission is free but seats are limited.

Afternoon tea will be served.
